

Dear all,

This is the latest news from the QoG Institute.

NEW ARTICLES

Teorell, Jan and Bo Rothstein (2015). Getting to Sweden, Part I: War and Malfeasance, 1720–1850. Scandinavian Political Studies.

Teorell, Jan and Bo Rothstein (2015). Getting to Sweden, Part II: Breaking with Corruption in the Nineteenth Century. Scandinavian Political Studies.

Sundström, Aksel (2015). Covenants with broken swords: Corruption and law enforcement in governance of the commons. Global Environmental Change.

Halkos, George. E., Aksel Sundström and Nickolaos Tzeremes (2015). Regional environmental performance and governance quality: A non-parametric analysis. Environmental Economics and Policy Studies.

NEW WORKING PAPERS

Björn Rönnerstrand & Victor Lapuente: Corruption and antibiotic use in the European regions (2015:5)

NEW WEB PAGES FOR TEACHERS

The project Bringing QoG research to the classroom is now fully visible on the Internet, although at this point only in Swedish. Please visit the Swedish version of our website and look under the tab Lärare. Here, you find basic information about QoG and links to already existing pages that can be useful for teachers. The new material will be found under Stödmaterial. Here, you can also find our first filmed lecture. In the months to come, we will post more filmed lectures on the website. The films are produced to be used in schools but can also be helpful for students at University level.

THE INTERNATIONAL SCIENCE FESTIVAL GOTHENBURG 15-19 APRIL

The QoG institute will participate at the International Science Festival in Gothenburg on 15-16 April. The theme of this year's festival is "Life and Death" and QoG will participate with a workshop with the title: "Do people die unnecessarily?" The workshop is in Swedish. For a full program, please visit the festival website.

NEW FACEBOOK PAGE

Since a couple of weeks, the QoG institute has a new Facebook page (QoG - Quality of Government Institute). Here, we will post news about what is going on at the institute and post links to new publications etc. Please go in and like our Facebook page. Please note that the QOG Data page is also still on and active.

Best regards,
The QoG Team

Find us on Facebook