

QoG NEWS

Dear all,

This is the latest news from the QoG Institute.

NEW ARTICLES

"Corruption, inequalities and the perceived effectiveness of economic pro-environmental policy instruments: A European cross-national study" by Niklas Harring (2013)

"Corruption and citizens' satisfaction with democracy in Europe: What is the empirical linkage?" by Daniel Stockemer & Aksel Sundström (2013)

"Governing religion: the long-term effects of sacred financing" by Bo Rothstein & Rasmus Broms (2013).

DATA NEWS

Older versions of our datasets are now available on the newly launched QoG Data Archive page. Here you can find older versions of our datasets and code books. Access the page via the link on the Data Downloads page.

On the newly launched Articles using QoG data page, you can find a selection of academic articles using QoG data. This web page will be continually updated.

QOG ON WIKIPEDIA

Information about the QoG institute is now available on Wikipedia.

Best regards,
The QoG Team