

Dear all,

This is the latest news from the QoG Institute.

NEW ARTICLES

Xezonakis, G., Kosmidis, S. & Dahlberg, S. (forthcoming). Can electors combat corruption? Institutional arrangements and citizen behaviour. European Journal of Political Research.

NEW WORKING PAPERS

Kajsa Karlström: Decentralization, corruption, and the role of democracy (2015:14)

Marina Povitkina: Democracy, Bureaucratic Capacity and Environmental Quality (2015:13)

Martin Sjöstedt & Marina Povitkina: Vulnerability of Small Island Development States. Does good governance help? (2015:12)

Michelle D'Arcy & Marina Nistotskaya: State First, Then Democracy: Using Cadastral Records to Explain Governmental Performance (2015:11)

Aksel Sundström: Corruption and violations of conservation rules: A survey experiment with resource users (2015:10)

Carl Dahlström, Jan Teorell, Stefan Dahlberg, Felix Hartmann, Annika Lindberg, Marina Nistotskaya: THE QOG EXPERT SURVEY II Report (2015:9)

FORTHCOMING BOOK

Dahlström, Carl & Lena Wängnerud (eds.). Elites, Institutions and the Quality of Government. Palgrave Macmillian (August 2015).

REPORT FOR THE FIRST TEN YEARS OF THE QOG INSTITUTE

In May this year, the QOG institute published a report in Swedish that summarizes the most important results from the institute's first 10 years of research. This report has now been translated into English and is available on our website. The report aims to provide a general summary of the research programme and is aimed at the general public, mass media, the parliament, the Foundation, and our research colleagues within and beyond the social sciences.

DATA NEWS: NEW VISUALIZATION TOOL

An updated version of the QoG data visualization tool is now available on the QoG data pages. The new version includes new data.

LECTURE WITH PROF. FRANCIS FUKUYAMA

The winner of the Johan Skytte Prize in Political Science this year, prof. Francis Fukuyama from Stanford University, will visit the QOG institute and give a lecture at the Department of Political Science. The lecture will take place in Hörsal Dragonen Monday Oct. 5, 3-5pm.

Best regards,

The QoG Team

